

Imagine there were five fire-breathing dragons.
How would George destroy them by himself?

Imagine the princess was stranded in the middle of the lake on a boat. How could she be saved?

Write the next part to the story. What could have happened after George defeated the dragon?

