Comparative/Contrastive Conjunctions and Adverbials

Comparative conjunctions and adverbials are used to show how two things are similar.

Contrastive conjunctions and adverbials are used to show how two things are different.

**Use the examples on the word mats in the English folder to help you****

In your English book, put each of these comparative words or phrases into a sentence to say how netball and football are similar:

- 1) both
- 2) similarly
- 3) likewise
- 4) in the same way
- 5) too
- 6) also

Now, put each of these contrastive words or phrases into a sentence to say how netball and football are different:

- 1) in contrast
- 2) although
- 3) whereas
- 4) however
- 5) alternatively
- 6) on the other hand

Make sure you understand how to use each one in a sentence as you will be using these comparative and contrastive sentence structures in your next piece of writing this week.

Enjoy,
