

'Stig of the Dump'
Clive King

Answers

1. Barney is adventurous and may find his grandmother's house quite boring. He liked the idea of living outside with all of Stig's creative inventions.
2. Personal response with reasons.
3. Stig gave a huge smile and was extremely happy.
4. Stig seems proud of his home as he enjoys showing off his inventions to Barney. He says that Stig is like a 'householder' showing off his property to a visitor.
5. From seeing his den, Stig seems like he could build anything. He is extremely practical and his hands are capable of creating anything. However, he does not appear to be intelligent at first glance.
6. YES: he does not lie to his family when they ask where he had been even though he could have easily done so.
NO: his family do not believe him so perhaps he has told lies before.
