

The Firework-Maker's Daughter

1. Onomatopoeia
2. Lalchand
3. Lila
4. Six
5. Answers will vary but should be explained.

Letters from the Lighthouse

1. WW2 – mentions a war is on and air raids. You can infer that food is rationed because it says about not throwing food away when a war is on.
2. It suggests that there are lots of bombs that scatter when dropped. It may be referring to the noise it makes.
3. Picture Palace.
4. Enjoyed, liked, loved, etc.
5. No because it looked like brains and they had to pinch their nose and swallow hard when they ate it and then drink a glass of water.

CHALLENGE: The second part of the sentence explains the first part. The colon introduces an explanation.