

Use the pictures provided to improve these sentences.
Think carefully about how you've been asked to improve sentences in previous weeks and try to apply this independently this week.

Think about how to build suspense, create atmosphere, starting sentences in different ways, extending sentences, using a range of conjunctions, using parenthesis, using a range of punctuation and your vocabulary choices.

What do you want your reader to feel? What do you want the reader to know? What do you want the reader to infer?

I'd love to see your new sentences if you wanted to email them to teacher@kingslandengland.hereford.sch

Jim stood in the city. It was messy.
It was very quiet. Jim felt scared.

Professor Snape stood in the forest.
It was dark. He waved his wand. A bright light came from it.

He looked out of the window. It was snowy. He was scared. He could see something.
