

Unequal Friendships are Unhealthy Friendships

When friendships aren't equal (when someone is making the other person feel unhappy by not listening to them, calling them names or taking things that don't belong to them) the relationship isn't a healthy one.

Can you think of anything else someone might do that would create an unhappy friendship? Write your ideas in the empty rain clouds.

