

Building a Body

Onto the diagram, draw the heart and the lungs in the right places and as close to the correct size to match the drawing as you can. Show the main tubes (veins, arteries, windpipe/trachea) connected to the heart and lungs, but don't draw in a lot of other details. Very neatly, label the parts you have drawn.