

Using 'Flood' by Alvaro F. Villa, change the setting of the story to a school. Draw a main character and name them in the box. Plot that character's emotions through the story, being sure to look carefully at what is happening in each plot point.

