

Draw and describe the Bump-a-lump

First of all I would like you to draw your Bump-a-lump. On the website is a PowerPoint presentation which will help you draw your Bump-a-lump. Then I would like you to describe your Bump-a-lump to me.

Things you will include:

- Full stops
- Capital letters
- Sentences making sense
- Adjectives - a list of these can be found in the Monster presentation as well.

Below is an example to help you. Please feel free to borrow ideas from it.

I gasped at the sight of this terrifying creature as I saw it claw like hands swinging it the air snapping at me. His gigantic venomous fangs were glistening in the sunlight. Its huge green eyes, that were as big as football, stared at me wherever I moved. It had gigantic, meat-tearing and razor sharp teeth and also ears which could hear movement from 10 miles away. I couldn't believe just how big its spikes were on its back. The Bump-a-lump was so big and powerful but it moved like a snail. This made it really easy for me to run away. Phew!

Maybe (only if you want to) you could even draw the picture of my Bump-a-lump by following the description.
